

MOTION BY SUPERVISOR DON KNABE

February 7, 2012

The National Association of Counties (NACo) holds their annual meeting at a different site each year. The 2011 Annual Conference was held in Portland, Oregon and the 2012 Conference will be held in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. I believe that Long Beach, California would be an ideal site for NACo to consider for their 2016 meeting. In order for the County to propose Long Beach, it would require a letter from the Board of Supervisors expressing interest in hosting the conference. That would allow the County to submit a bid for NACo's consideration. A final decision on the 2016 site would be determined by NACo in December 2012.

I THEREFORE MOVE that the Board of Supervisors send a letter to the National Association of Counties expressing interest in hosting the 2016 NACo Annual Meeting.
